HERO OF WAR ENDS HIS LIFE

Windsor Snowden Uses Shotgun While Alone at Bachelor Apartment

GIVEN CROSS OF HONOR

Nerves Thought to Have Been Shattered as a Result of His Harrowing Experiences in Great War.

Richard D. A. Windsor Snowden, thirty years old, winner of a croix de guerre for bravery while in action, ended his life late yesterday afternoon by shooting himself with a shotgun while at an apartment occupied by bachelors at 102 South Columbus street.

Snowden placed the gun between his legs and took a seat in a chair in the kitchen. His left hand was used to pull the trigger of the gun, the barrel of which was placed in his mouth. Death is thought to have ben instantaneous, the contents entering his brain.

At 6:15 o'clock the body was found limp in the chair in the kitchen by W. Bathurs Daingerfield and George Grant, members of the club.

Dr. T .M. Marshall Jones, coroner, was notified and after viewing the body he deemed an inquest unnecessary.

According to the physician Snowden had evidently been dead for about two hours. It is, therefore, supposed that he shot himself about 4 o'clock in the afternoon a short time after his return from Washington. The shot gun was the property of one of the occupants of the house.

Snowden was a member of the club, but did not have rooms at that place. He, however, was a frequent caller there to see his friends. When he went to the place yesterday afternoon there was no one about.

A person passing the place saw the form of a man sitting limp in a chair in the kitchen and notified Mr. Daingerfield and he together with Mr. Grant immediately rushed into the house and found the body of Snowden.

Windsor Snowden, as he was known to his friends was a son of Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Snowden, and lived with his parents at 920 King street. He was unmarried.

Snowden for several years past had been employed as a book-keeper at the Riggs National Bank, Washington. At the outbreak of the war he responded to the call to the colors and subsequently entered the ambulance corps.

Snowden was sent to Allentown, Pa., where he received his training before being sent overseas.

For bravery distinguished on the field of action he was decorated. He served with the American ambulance corps in the French army.

The deceased spent a total of seventeen months in the service and returned from France about a month ago. He was preparing to resume his work at the Riggs National Bank.

The only reason that can be assigned by his friends for his act is that he evidently had his nerves shattered as a result of his harrowing experiences in the great war, and that all of a sudden the collapse came.

Snowden was very modest and retiring about the part he played in the war and although decorated for bravery barely spoke of what he saw unless asked to do so by his friends.

The deceased was popular in local athletic circles and for a number of years had been active in all athletic sports.

Young Snowden had a host of friends all of whom expressed deep regret at his death which came as a distinct shock to them.

His funeral will take place at 5:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon from his parents' residence, and the funeral and burial will be private.

Services will be conducted by Rev. Dr. W. J. Morton, rector of Christ P. E. Church, assisted by Rev. Dr. S. A. Wallis, of the Episcopal Theological Seminary.

There will be a meeting of St. Mary's War Service Club tonight at 8 o'clock in the Lyceum Hall.

U-BOAT DROPS WREATH

Craft Which Sunk Vessels Goes to Sea on Far Different Mission

New York, May 8.—A former German submarine, the J-C 97, temporarily abandoned the work of aiding the Victory loan campaign yesterday to perform a rite utterly at variance with the use to which she had been put by the Germans before the United States took her over. Under command of Lieutenant-Commander C. H. Lockwood, the submarine bore to a point off Sandy Hook a wreath of laurel, woodbine and ferns and bound with a purple ribbon bearing in gold letters the words:

"In memoria—Lusitania".

In a choppy sea, partly awash, the submarine rolled on the surface while the crew was mustered forward, the men stood uncovered while a bugle sounded "taps" and as the last notes died the wreath was cast upon the waters.

GERMANY TO SIGN, BUT GRUDGINGLY

Carciful analysis of Count von Brockdorff-Rantzaus speech at Versailles indicated that Germany would sign, but that it would be grudgingly done.

The Junkers in Germany are dying hard, and they are now carrying on a propaganda for an alliance with Russia. However, if Germany signs the treaty as it notwitstands, the "pact" entered into between the Germans and the Bolsheviks at Brest-Litovsk will be null and void. That is one of the terms.

PEACE TREATY IS PRESENTED

Handed to German Plenipotentiaries Yesterday

TERMS ARE DRASTIC

It Totals 80,000 Words, Divided Into Fifteen Main Sections Printed in Parallel Columns of English And French.

Following is a semi-official summary of the peace treaty as cabled from Paris to the Committee on Public Information at New York:

The treaty of peace between the twenty-seven allied and associated powers on the one hand and Germany on the other was handed to the German plenipotentiaries at Versailles yesterday.

It is the longest treaty ever drawn. It totals about 80,000 words, divided into fifteen main sections and represents the combined product of more than 1,000 experts working continuously through a series of commissions for the three and a half months since Jan. 18, the treaty is printed in parallel pages of English and French, which are recognized as having equal validity. It does not deal with questions affecting Austria, Bulgaria and Turkey except insofar as binding Germany to accept any agreement reached with those former allies:

Alsace and Lorraine go to France. All the bridges over the Rhine on their orders are to be in French control.

The port of Danzig is permanently internationalized and most of Upper Silesia is ceded to Poland, whose independence Germany recognizes. Poland also receives the province of Posen and that portion of the province of West Prussia west of the Vistula.

The Sarre coal basin is temporarily internationalized. The coal mines go to France.

Germany recognizes the total independence of German Austria and Czecho-Slovakia.

Germany's colonies are taken from her by the clause in which she renounces all her territorial and political rights outside Europe. The league of nations will work out the mandatory system for governing these colonies.

Belgium is conditionally given the Malmedy and Eupen districts of Prussia bordering on Belgium, with the opportunity to be given the inhabitants to protest. The league of nations has the final decision.

Luxemburg is set free from the German customs union.

All German concessions and territory in China must be renounced. Shantung is ceded to Japan. Germany recognizes the French in Morocco and the British protectorate over Egypt.

German troops and authorities must evacuate Schleswig-Holstein north of the Kiel Canal, within ten days after peace. A commission will be appointed to supervise a vote of self-determination in the territory, and the districts wishing to join Denmark will be ceded by Germany.

Helgoland must be demolished, and by German labor; the Kiel Canal must be opened to all nations.

The German cables in dispute are surrendered.

Germany may not have an army of more than 100,000 men and cannot resort to conscription.

She must raze all her forts for 50 kilometers east of the Rhine, and is almost entirely prohibited from producing war material. Violation of the 50 kilometer zone restriction will be considered an act of war.

Only six capital ships of not more than 10,000 tons each are allowed Germany for her navy. She is permitted six light cruisers, twelve destroyers and 12 torpedoboats in addition to six battleships, but no submarines.

All civilian damages are to be reimbursed by Germany, her initial payment to be 20,000,000,000 marks, with subsequent payments to be secured by bonds.

She must replace shipping ton for ton, handing over a great part of her mercantile tonnage and turning out new construction for the purpose. She must also devote her economic resources to rebuilding the devastated regions.

Parts of Germany will e occupied on a diminishing scale until reparation is made.

Germany must agree to the trial of former Emperor William by an international court for a supreme offense against intenational morality, and to the trial of others of her subjects for violations of the laws and customs of war.

The allies and Germany accept the league of nations, Germany, however, accepting only in principle and not as a member.

All treaties and agreements with bolshevik Russia must be abrogated, as well as the treaty of Bucharest with Roumania.

Germany is required to pay the total cost of the armies of occupation from the date of the armistice as long as they are maintained in German territory, this cost to be a first charge of her resources. The cost of reparation is the next charge, after making such provisions for payments for imports as the allies may deem necessary.

OVER THE TOP IN LOAN DRIVE

Bonds Amounting to $75,000 Sold During Drive Last Night

MAY GO OVER BY $100,00

General Rejoicing That Alexandria Has Passed Her Allotment—Scottish Rite Masons Take $30,000.

Alexandria went over the top in the sale of Victory bonds at the mass meeting held last night in front of the Young People's building.

At this meeting $75,000 worth of bonds were subscribed for. This amount included the sum of $30,000 taken by the Scottish Rite Masonic bodies of this city. There also was taken several big subscriptions, including two of $10,000 each.

The meeting was presided over by Robert S. Jones, local chairman of the victory loan committee and Col. Julian Y. Williams introduced Dr. L. M. Rowe, assistant secretary of the Treasury, who delivered an address in the interest of the loan.

Mr. Jones predicted that by the close of the drive Saturday night Alexandria will have gone over the top by more than $100,000. This city's allotment is $554,800.

News that Alexandria has passed the allotment set for her was received with general gratification by citizens generally.

To much credit cannot be given to the women's committee for the splendid work they have done in this campaign.

This committee is headed by Mrs. Percy Evans, chairman and Miss Nellie Uhler, vice chairman.

R. Walton Moore, democratic nominee for Congress from this district, yesterday addressed the employes of the plant of the Virginia Shipbuilding Corporation in the interest of the Victory Loan and several thousand dollars worth of bonds were subscribed for.

At the conclusion of the mass meeting the members of the band were entertained at luncheon at the War Camp Community Service Club which was followed by a dance. They were guests of the women's committee on the loan drive.

SALVATION ARMY DRIVE

New Plans to Raise its Quota for Organization

New York, May 8.—The universal appeal of the Salvation Army was shown when prominent women of New York Society met at the National Campaign Headquarters, 680 Fifth Avenue, and organized the Women's Section of the Greater New York committee of the Home Service Fund Drive.

The committee, of which Mrs. Frank Gray Griswold is chairman, was organized to aid in raising the New York quota of $1,500,000 of the $13,000,000 to be gathered throughout the United States in the drive during the week beginning May 19th.

After the preliminary meeting, Mrs. Griswold announced that the committee would co-operate with the Greater New York Committee of which Brigadier-General Cornelius Vanderbilt is chairman.

Mrs. Griswold issued the following statement at the conclusion of the meeting:

"We have enlisted to serve the cause of the Salvation Army because, as women of New York, we believe it nobly meets a great need. Its works both abroad and at home, whether it be in army camps or the slums, has been an open book on which its good record may be read by all. We should have known about them many years ago, and now that we do know we will use our best efforts to help the Army and to aid others to realize how noble is its work and how fine its ideas.

"The practical plan it has undertaken for salvaging the saloons is typical of its policy. While many of us were merely theorizing about the drink problem, the Salvation Army which knows life from every side, found its solution in a straightforward, practical way."

"I have yet to learn of anyone who even breathed a criticism of its achievements or its methods, while on the other hand, nothing but the highest praise was lavished upon it from one end of the country to the other.

"The Salvation Army deserves well of the American people.

BUT THREE MORE DAYS

The Victory Loan campaign will have run its course by Saturday night. While there have been slight spurts in our city on the part of some who do not desire to be left in this patriotic movement, the fact remains that Alexandria is still far behind in furnishing her quota. It should not be so, and it is earnestly hoped that every resident in a position to do so will rally to the support of the country and finsh the job during the next forty-eight hours.

A contemporary in this connection suggests that we read the peace terms given Germany and reflect upon them.

But for American participation in the war they would not have been possible.

But for America's participation in the war the result would hav been the other way, and Germany would be imposing the peace terms.

And they would have been far more onerous upon the Allies than the terms the Allies are imposing upon Germany. That is shown by such parts of the German program of conquest and indemnities as have come to light.

But for America's participation in the war, the vast preparations she made, preparations for war that might last 10 years. America would be facing terms as onerous, or more so, than the Allies are now imposing upon Germany. "Germany will stand no nonsense from America after this war," Wilhelm told our Ambassador, and the plan was, after stripping France to the bone and rendering England impotent, to attack and give to this country a dose similar to that imposed upon Belgium and France. And with America fighting alone a triumphant Germany could have done it.

It cost a great deal of money to ward off that blow. And to meet the last of the bills of getting the men across to do it, and of equipping them, and feeding them, and now to clean up and bring the men home the Government had to borrow billions of dollars from the banks in anticipation of the flotation of the Victory Loan. And but for the work which has been done, and for which the people are being asked to pay, they might now, instead of buying their Government's bonds that yield a sure return on their money, with the assurance of getting their money back in four years, they might even now be paying tribute to Germany in form of a huge indemnity, greater than the amount of all the bond issues the Government has floated since the war began.

That is something to think about.

ANTI-SEMITIC FEELING

Hunger, disease and destitution are decimating the war-ridden Jewish populations of Poland and other parts of Europe where the proportion of Hebrews before the war was large says the Richmond Virginian. Added to these scourges is a bitter anti-Semitic feeling stirred up by naturally antagonistic groups.

"The situation in Poland is so terrible," according to Dr. Boris D. Bogen, "that the people are only kept alive through fatalistic faith in some miracle in the future. The population has seen and felt so much of suffering that it has become calloused to hardship and to want, but the spectacle of hundreds of starving children, of women, in the biting cold, clad only in the scantiest of filthy rags, and of men, listlessly and aimlessly walking the streets asking for bread, has deeply affected the committe's representatives."

Conditions in Czecho-Sloviaks are intensified, according to Henry G. Alsberg, by a widespread anti-Semitic feeling. "Throughout Czecho-Slovakia," says Mr. Alsberg, "from the signing of the armistice up to about a month ago, (Mr. Alsberg writes under date of March 5 and 6) there were plundering and looting of Jewish shops and homes and, in one case at any rate a real pogrom.

ALLIES PRESENT TERMS

Shortly after the Germans precipitated the great world war, and while they were smashing their way through Belgium and northern France, one of their representative men exclaimed, "Wait until we take our seats at the green table." He meant that the Kaiser would appropriate the world to himself and that Germany would take its place in the sun.

German plenipotentiaries yesterday attended the Peace Conference at Versailles. As a cartoon in a Washington paper illustrated it several days ago, they were armed with quills, not swords. They were handed the terms, the most drastic that could be divised, which they must sign or prepare themselves for further onslaughts from the victorious allies.

Germany is stripped of Alsace-Lorraine, of large parts of Upper Silesia and East Prussia; of Danzig and of territory adjoining Belgium and Denmark; deprived of her colonies; forced to relinquish control of the Saar Basin for fifteen years and the Saar coal mines, apparently permanently; required to internationalize the Kiel Canal; to demolish all fortifications for thirty miles to the east of the Rhine and those in Helgoland and to reduce her army and navy to inconsiderable proportions; to accept full responsibility for all damages to the Allied and associated governments; to make an initial payment of $5,000,000,000 and subsequent payments as a reparation committee shall determine; compelled to accept stringent economic restrictions and Allied occupation of parts of Germany until reparation is made; obliged to accede to the trial of her former Kaiser by an international court and to deliver to the Allies other violators of international law—the punishment visited upon this arch-criminal among nations will stand as long as recorded history lasts as an object lesson to all rulers who lust after world denomination.

PRESENTING THE TREATY

Few events in the history of the world have been more dramatic, more impressive and more significant than that of presenting to the German delegates, in the spot where the triumph over France nearly half a century ago was crowned by the creation of the German Empire, and on the anniversary of the crime of the Lusitania, the treaty which will disarm the German Empire on land and sea deprive it of its colonial possessions, circumscribe its commercial power, bring its recent Emperor and many of his agents to the bar of justice, and impose upon Germany as heavy financial penalties as it is practicable to enforce.

The treaty does not entirely satisfy any party to it. This was inevitable. The aspirations and the claims and the conflicting interests of the victorious nations were so involved with each other that no nation could have all that it felt it ought to have without defeating the claims of other nations which rested on substantial grounds.

It is a good treaty, for it gives every assurance that is possible of a permanent peace.—(Philadelphia Record.

NO SUPERFLOUS WORDS

Clemenceau Lays Down the Law to German Representatives

Trianon Palace, Versailles, May 8.—All eyes were fixed upon the shaggy-moustached, pugnacious face of Clemenceau in the presiding seat at the tribunal of civilization yesterday.

One—two—three, tolls a steeple bell. The man in the presiding chair rises with calm, deliberate dignity.

"The session is open."

Again this foe of phrases astounds the diplomatic world steeped in superfluous verbiage. For that is al lho days by way of calling history's most momentous gathering to order. First it is almost like a shock to many of the veteran statesmen; then all seem to have a sigh of relief. His directness and simplicity were reminiscent of the way he opened the first session of the Supreme War Council in the darkest hour of the conflict, when Foch was made allied generalissimo. The man who wasted no words in the war would not squander sophistries in making peace.

In a flash all eyes switched from France's "Tiger" to the door, flung wide open y two liveried attendants. One by one the names of Germany's delegates were announced as they entered.

The last one in, Clemenceau began in French:

"Gentlemen, Plenipotentiaries of the

"It is neither the time nor the place for superfluous words."

Then the venerable prime minister of France "laid down the law" to the German representatives.

"We have come to settle our account," was one of his crisp sentences. His speech had in it a touch of grimness and here and there it contained a subtle emphasis of the think they can bargain with the victors; that the treatyni ETAOIN victors; that the treaty in its essentials is, as far as the allies are concerned, final.

He told them almost in so many words to "put their complaints in writing" and gave them fifteen days in which to make up their minds, promising every facility and the "courtesy that is the privilege of civilized nations." Their oservations, he said, must be written in French and English.

As soon as he had finished, the French premier handed a khaki-bound copy of the treaty to M. Dutasta, secretary general of the conference, who, in turn, presented it to Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau, assuring him he and his colleagues could have as many more as would be needed.

UNIONS ARE ACCUSED

Labor Agents Dominate Employment Service Board is Charge

New Orleans, May 8.—A resolution protesting against rehabiliation of the United States employment service and urging a Congressional investigation of its operations was adopted by the Southern Metal Trades Association in session here. The resolution, copies of which were ordered sent to members of Congress, charges misuse of Governmental authority by the Department of Labor in the operation of the employment service and says in part:

"It has been clearly established that the employment service has been dominated by agents of labor unions and the said service conducted in the sole interests of unionism, forming less than 3 per cent of the population of the United States and to the detriment of other interests."

William T. Harding of Raleigh, N. C., was elected president of the association.

For $1—This Week Only

To Women Who Failed to Get It

We have supplied our famous Cookers to more than a million homes. But we want every home using Quaker Oats or Mother's Oats to have one. So we repeat for one week only this attractive Dollar Offer.

Now a Very Costly Offer

This to us, at present aluminum prices, is a very costly offer. Yet we have those Cookers made to our order in enormous lots.

Such an Aluminum Cooker, extra large and heavy, would probably cost at retail more than you care to pay. But you need it to cook cereals rightly. So we want you to have it—for your sake and our sake—if you are cooking our cereals without it.

If you have this Cooker, our offer is not open. We cannot supply more than one to a family. But, if you failed to get one, get it now. This offer is made for one week only. It cannot be repeated unless Aluminum comes down.

Keep the Rich Flavor Intact

Quaker Oats and Mother's Oats are made from queen grains only—just the rich, plump, flavory oats. We get but ten pounds from a bushel.

This is done to secure a superlative flavor. Little grains, puny and insipid, lessen oat-food delights.

Now we ask you to cook these luscious oat flakes so that flavor keeps intact. Cook them so they easily digest. This Cooker will help you to do that, as it does a million others.

It is yours for $1 if you send this week. And if you send the sales slip asked for, to show that you are using this delicious grade of oats. You will save enough to buy a great deal of cereal by accepting this dollar offer.

Your Last Chance to Get It

Buy from your grocer five packages of either Quaker Oats or Mother's Oats. Or buy four packages of the oats, and one of either Quaker Best Corn Meal or Quaker Hominy. Send us the grocer's sales slip with $1 and we will mail the Aluminum Cooker by parcel post. Sales slips must be mailed within one week.

Election in Baltimore Results in Triumph of Republican Nominee for Mayor

Baltimore, May 8.—William Frederick Broening, Republican state's attorney for Baltimore, will be the first mayor of greater Baltimore.

He won that honor yesterday by defeating George Weems Williams, the Democratic candidate, in one of the most remarkable elections in the history of the Monumental City.

There is no doubt that Mr. Broening's plurality will be at least 6,000, with three-quarters of the vote of the city counted. Howard Bryant, Democratic candidate for president of the Second Branch of the City Council (the vice-mayor of the city), and a running mate of Mr. Williams, has defeated Charles E. Norris, while Peter Tome, the Republican candidate for city comptroller, and a running mate of Mr. Broening, has defeated Joseph E. Smith, Democrat.

The general onslaught was on Mr. Williams, who had the backing of the State organization, which recently defeated Mayor Preston for renomination in the primaries.

GUARD ALLEGED SLAYER

James Crawford Suspected of Murdering Emma Austraw

Greensburg, Pa., May 8.—James Crawford, alleged murderer of Emma Austraw, is held at the Barracks here today, guarded by a troop of State constabulary and volunteers.

Word received indicated that, following news of the arrest, a crowd began gathering at Latrobe, ten miles distant, making threats of lynching.

John Ray, 17, is also held as an alleged accomplice.

The expected mob attack developed only a small demonstration by a score of youths who rode into town on a truck, shouted and yelled and departed when they were ignored.

Information charging Crawford and Ray with murder were sworn out today.

According to the police, Crawford's confession shows that the two men seized the girl and dragged her into the cellar of an abandoned log cabin on the Ardary farm. Then, after she had been attacked, the men knotted a buckskin thong through her arms, tide them behind her back and carried her unconscious to the door a bullet was fired into her head, McLaughlin asserted.

Crawford, the police say, accused Ray of shooting the girl.

WOMAN BADLY ABUSED

Search for Murderer Directed to Men in Mystery House

Barre, Vt., May 8.—Search for the murderer of Mrs. Mary E. Broadwell was directed yesterday toward several men said to have been in a mystery house in which Mrs. Broadwell was seen the night of the murder.

The report of State Pathologist Stone, which is now in the hands of Attorney-General Archibald, is said to show that the victim had been dead eight hours when the body was discovered.

It is also understood to establish the fact that the woman was brutally abused, the indications being that her clothes were torn from her body when she struggled to defend herself.

EXTRA LONG WEAR FROM SHOES

T. D. Collins of Ookala, Hawaii, makes a remarkable statement which demonstrates the money-saving durability of Neolin Soles.

He writes, "After wearing a pair of Neolin-soled shoes off and on for thirty-three months, I wore them on a trip to the volcano of Kilauea and walked around the crater over hot lava six times and still the soles showed only slight signs of wear."

This experience is not accidental. It results from the scientific process by which Neolin Soles are made to be exactly what soles should be—comfortable, waterproof and exceedingly economical because of the long wear they give.

Get them on new shoes for all members of the family and have them put on worn shoes. They are made by The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company, Akron, Ohio, who also make Wingfoot Heels, guaranteed to outwear any other heels.

GRAND TONIGHT

"Peggy," the Billie Burke picture which is being shown at the Grand Theatre, has a well-balanced and capable cast.

As leading man for Miss Burke, William Desmond displays both the expression and power of emotion that the part demands. He is shown as a young Scottish minister in a little hamlet in the highlands. An Irishman by birth is Desmond, but he has spent most of his life in this country. Besides having played in many notable productions under the Belasco, Frohman and Shubert managements, he has been starred by Triangle in many pictures. Matinee and night.

RICHMOND—Alice Brady

"Redhead," Alice Brady's latest picture, which Select Pictures offers for tonight at the Richmond Theatre, is the story of Dazie, alias "Redhead," who marries Matthew Burlow, a rich, young man about town, when both are under the influence of liquor. They both regret it the following morning, but she decides that as long as they are married she will make a man of him. The story is a splendid one, full of love and charm, and holds your interest to the last fade-out.

SHOT FROM AMBUSH

Charleston, W. Va., May 8.—Orland McKee, 20, mustered out of the army a week ago, was shot and killed while riding near this city early yesterday morning. With five companions he was going out the Malden road when some persons along the railroad track fired five shots. One last striking McKee in the back of the head. He was brought to a hospital here and died within an hour. This is the second murder of the same kind within a week. Luther Gibson being shot from ambush on Grapevine creek about a week ago by unknown parties.

FREED OF CHARGE

Judge Hardison, of Washington Police Court, made it plain to the jury yesterday in his charge in the case of Bert Lewis Bolden, a restaurant keeper arraigned on a charge of selling liquor, that he is opposed to the prohibition laws, but he admonished the jury that these laws must be upheld. Bolden was acquitted. A case of violation of the zone law is pending against him.

"Personally I have no use for these prohibition laws," said Judge Hardison in his charge. "But they are there regardless of that opinion, put upon the statute books by Congress, and it is our duty to see that they are enforced. We would have a condition of affairs here today worse than they have in Russia if we should undertake to carry all these laws into effect."

Officers claimed they searched Bolden's place and found thirty-four quarts of whisky and two quarts of wine which Bolden showed had been brought there from Baltimore the day it was found.

"NEW GERMANY"

Shrinks to Proportions of a Second Rate Power as Result of War

The "New Germany" will be a second-rate power simply because of her prescribed geographical limitations and even without taking into consideration the tremendous reductions in her military and naval armament.

Stripped of all her colonial possessions, she emerges in Europe with great portions of territory taken from the empire which Bismarck builded.

She suffers a clean loss of more than 8,000 square miles of territory.

Alsace-Lorraine, which goes back to France, contains 5,600 square miles.

Belgium profits through the annexation of two small districts, aggregating an area of 989 square miles, between Holland and Luxemburg.

Poland is given the entire southeastern tip of Silesia.

In addition to these, the Danzig area, comprising 729 square miles, is gone forever. The Saar basin, with its 738 miles, will be French for fifteen years and with the option to make it permanent after that time.

The southeastern third of East Prussia, 5,785 square miles, is given the right to determine its nationality, and may go to Poland, while Upper Schleswig, with 2,787 square miles, is expected to go to Denmark, through a plebiscite—a plebiscite which German militarism delayed for more than fifty years.

BLAMES ALL EUROPE

Germany Refuses to Confess That She Alone is Responsible for the War.

Versailles, May 8.—Germany refuses to confess that she alone is responsible for the war. She admits that her former government "contributed to the disaster," but claims that the "imperialism of all European states" is equally to blame. Russia's mobilization, she asserts, was the immediate cause.

Such, in substance, was the reply of Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau, head of the German peace delegation, to Premier Clemenceau's statement in his "welcome" speech, that Germany cruelly imposed the war upon the world.

"Such a confession in my mouth would be a lie," said Count Brockdorff.

"We know the power of the German army is broken. We know the power of the hatred which was encounter here."

He spoke in German.

"The hundreds of thousands of non-combatants who have perished since the 11th of November by reason of the blockade," he said, "were killed with cold deliberation after our adversaries had conquered and victory had been assured to them."

His speech was bitter and defiant.

BELGIUM WILL SIGN

Her Tterritorial Claims Not Granted 750,000 People Idle in Country

Paris, May 8.—Although Belgium has decided to sign the peace treaty, she is far from satisfied, a high Belgian official said yesterday. Practically none of Belgium's territorial claims has been confirmed.

"There are 750,000 people idle in Belgium," said the official. "They are idle because of destroyed factories or lack of raw materials. It is impossible to obtain these without credit, and credit is impossible without sound economic conditions, backing it up. Economically, Belgium will be very badly off unless she is indemnified properly."

NONUNION MEN STRIKE

Toledo, Ohio, May 8.—About 2000 non-union workers at the Willys-Overland and Electric Auto-Lite plants yesterday joined 8,500 union men already out in protest against a 48-hour week.

Three shifts of 150 pickets each button-holed all workers entering both plants and asked them to quit.

Union heads officially declared the men had been locked out, and as a result each of the 10,500 workers out will begin to draw a weekly allowance from the union treasury.

Police Chief Herbert was personally in charge of reserves at the plants, but no disorder was attempted.

PALACE AND GEMS ARE CONFISCATED

Geneva, May 8.—The palace of ex-King Nicholas, of Montenegro, and all of his other property, including the crown jewels, have been confiscated at Cettinje, said a dispatch from Innsbruck today.

(Montenegro will be a part of the new state of Jugo-Slavia.)

FORBIDS WIDOW TO GRIEVE FOR HIM

Memphis, May 8.—The will of W. B. Gates, Memphis merchant, probated here today, provides that his wife is to be cut out of her bequest if she puts flowers on his grave or wears mourning.

How much will you lend for the use of your two legs?

JIMMIE'S JOB AND YOUR OWN

He has almost finished his

How about you? Are you ready to say, "I have done my part?"

When Jimmie comes marching back, with gold stripes on both sleeves and maybe a cross on his chest, are you ready for the glad home coming? Ready? you ask,—as if you had not been waiting and longing all these months! As if you had not visualized him again and again, pictured him from babyhood on up, and loved each memory of towsled hair and grubby face—yes, and toothless grin, too; loved his way of calling you "Mummey," when he had tracked mud on the best rug again, or come home from a most apparent encounter with the enemy.

You loved him most of all that day when he came home, very quiet and serious, and put his arms around you while he told you that he wanted to go to serve his country. That day you first knew he was no longer a boy, but a full grown man, ready to assume his own responsibilities in the world.

That all seems a long time ago, doesn't it? Since then he has proved himself. He has served his country faithfully and well, even "beyond the call of duty," until now his services over there are almost ended and he will be coming home soon.

He is coming home to you—but he is coming back a different man from the boy you knew. The boy will be there, too, but he has known the feeling of dedication that comes from offering his life for an ideal, from laying his all at the feet of Liberty. His eyes have seen the vision—have yours seen it too?

He has almost finished his job, have you finished yours? His was to drive the Hun to his knees where now he is grovelling; and yours has been to back him up—clear to the Rhine. You have done that, but you have not finished. Your boy is still over there. He must not be deserted now when he is almost finished.

When he is ready to come home you must be ready too; ready to look him in the eyes with the knowledge that you have served your country at least so far as the call of duty.

There is one more big effort necessary—one more pull. All together now for the Victory Liberty Loan!

CAPTAIN SWIFT'S TALE

O, Captain Swift, of the Twenty-fifth, tell us a warrior's tale, of the rifles' rattle and the bloody battle and the shot that fell like hail. "It was at Belleau," and Captain Slow, or Swift, as the case may be," and my brave command plowed up the land in support of Battery D. And from over the hill, when all was still, came the Boche at double quick, and I thought for the nonce that gone was my sconce till my sergeant saved the trick. With a hand grenade and a bomb, home made, he hid by a shattered tree as the crafty Huns all trained their guns on the boys of Battery D. Then over the top on a darned fast hop came the rest of the shouting horde, and snorting tanks on both our flanks came near to having us floored, when Sergeant E. from behind that tree let loose his hand grenade, and the tanks stopped short and ceased to snort and a pause in the dash was made. With great aplomb he loosed his bomb and the slaughter was good to see as the German hounds into bits were ground by that blast of T-N-T. And I'm pleased to tell we gave them hell that day in Belleau Wood, and all of you, if you wanted to, could do a dead as good. Though the fightin's done and the war is won, the bills must still be paid; so a bond you'll take—it will help you make your purse a hand grenade.

Investment Features Of Victory Loan

As an investment the Victory Liberty Loan notes, according to the terms officially announced by the Secretary of the United States Treasury, offer unusual attractions. The securities are convertible four year 4¾ per cent gold notes dated May 20, 1919, and due May 20, 1923, being issued in denominations of from $50 to $100,000. They are exempt from all local and state taxes and United States normal income taxes. Further, they are convertible into United States of America 3¾ per cent four year gold notes of the same date and maturity which are exempt from all taxation—local, State, United States—including surtaxes, excess-profits and war taxes, but subject to estate or inheritance taxes.

By virtue of the Victory Liberty Loan act additional tax exemptions are granted to other holdings of Liberty bonds. The act increases to $160,000 the aggregate holdings of Liberty bonds (besides first 3½'s free from all local, State and United States taxes, except estate and inheritance taxes, These new exemptions are:

1.—Liberty Loan 4's or 4¼'s to an additional amount of $30,000, extending for five years after the termination of the war as fixed by proclamation of the President of the United States.

2.—For every dollar subscribed to the Victory Liberty Loan an additional exemption of three dollars on all previous issues, not to exceed the aggregate of $20,000, this extending for life of the Victory Liberty Loan so subscribed for and held.

Installments are payable as follows:

10 per cent on subscription.
10 per cent on July, 15, 1919.
20 per cent on Aug. 12, 1919.
20 per cent on Sept. 9, 1919.
20 per cent on Oct. 7, 1919.
20 per cent on Nov. 11, 1919.

Payments may be made in full on or before May 20, 1919, or on any installment date. Consult your bank if you desire to borrow money with which to subscribe to the Victory Liberty Loan.

WHOSE WAR WAS IT?

Was it Smith.., the banker's war or Jones, the truckman's war. Was it Labor's war or was it Capital's war? as it Autocracy's war or was it Liberty's war? Whose war was it?

Figure it out. Then subscribe to the Victory Liberty Loan. For it was the People's War.

It isn't paid for. It must be paid for. The Victory Liberty Loan will pay for it. The people must buy because it was their war. The people are Smith and Jones, Labor and Capital.

Eliminate the "ifs" from life and instead build up thrift.

WHAT BERNSTORFF DEMANDED

These were the von Bernstorff demands as they were reported to Premier Clemenceau in October, 1914:

The ceding of Morocco, Algeria, and Tunis to Germany.

The annexation by Germany of all that part of France following a straight line from St. Valery to Lyons. This is about one-fourth of France, with 15,000,000 inhabitants.

An indemnity of ten billion francs.

The admission of goods made in Germany into France free of duty for twenty-five years.

The continuation of the Treaty of Frankfort on trade conditions.

The demolishing of all French fortresses.

The surrender to Germany of 3,000,000 rifles, 3,000 cannon, and 40,000 horses.

The granting of French patent rights to German inventors without reciprocal action on the part of Germany.

The abandonment on the part of France of her alliance with England and Russia.

That France make an alliance with Germany for twenty-five years.

"Germany will beat Russia and finish off England," he said. "Then Russia and England will call for our aid against each other. As for France she must be reduced and sunk forever to the level of another Portugal or Turkey, even if we have to kill 5,000,000 Frenchmen to do it."

WETS TO FIGHT FOR SIX MONTHS' GRACE

A movement to secure six months' grace for the makers and sellers of intoxicating liquors will be started by conservative prohibitionists in Congress when it convenes, according to a Washington dispatch to the Baltimore Sun. There is a desire to a valid a "wet" and "dry" fight in the House or Senate the coming session. This plan could be carried out by the repeal of war-time prohibition. But it would be impossible to pass such legislation over the opposition of the Anti-Salon League and other temperance organizations affiliated with it. Prohibition advocates in Congress may join in a request to the representatives of the league to play hands off and let the war time act be killed to give those interested in the liquor business time to close out.

This, it is argued, would not be more time than was contemplated when the Federal prohibition amendment was drawn.

Dr. E. C. Dinwiddie, legislative agent of the Anti-Saloon League when asked about this proposition today, said people were not aggressive in bringing the war-time measure before Congress, but favored it as a temperance move. They cannot consent to any back step now, but he intimated that if such a plan would help prohibition in the long run no strenuous efforts would be made to block it.

President Wilson will be urged to use his influence to eliminate the war-time prohibition act. It is believed that he will succeed in doing so. Congrss would like to pass the buck to the President, but if prohibition leaders wink at a plan to cut it out there will be no trouble about it.

COAL. LUMBER AND BUILDING MATERIALS
W. A. SMOOT & CO. INC.
Your Next Winter's Coal
We do not know what the price of coal will be next Fall and Winter, as the retail price is governed by the price at the mines and the freight.
Our understanding of the present program is that Anthracite coal will advance ten cents a ton a month from May 1st to September 1st, and although we think this program will probably be carried out yet we are not sure of this.
We do know that THE MINES CANNOT PRODUCE, THE RAILROADS CANNOT HAUL AND THE DEALERS CANNOT HANDLE nearly enough coal during the Fall and Winter months to take care of an ordinary Winter's demand.
This means that coal will have to be mined, transported and delivered during the Spring and Summer to avoid a serious shortage next Fall and Winter.
We advise our customers to take these facts into consideration and order a reasonable supply of coal now.

FIUME TO ITALY IN 1923

In Meantime an Harbor is to be Built For Jugo-Slavs Farther Down The Adriatic Coast

Paris, May 8.—As a basis of resuming participation in the peace negotiations, Premier Orlando accepted a proposal that Italy administer Fiume as a manditory of the League of Nations until 1923, after which Fiume will revert to Italian sovereignty.

During the four years of Italian administration a harbor for the Jugo-Slavs will be built at a port a few miles lower down the Adriatic coast The harbor will have railroad communication with Agram and other cities.

Italy, it is understood, also is prepared to make sacrifices of some of her other claims on the Dalmatian coast.

The proposal which induced the Italians to return to Paris was made to them by Camille Barrere, the French Ambassador at Rome.

CHINA NOT TO SIGN PEACE TREATY

Peking, May 8.—The Chinese cabinet at a meeting Tuesday decided to instruct the Chinese delegates in Paris not to sign a peace treaty assigning the German rights in Shantung to the Japanese.

Paris, May 8.—Serious trouble has developed in China as a result of the decision of the Council of Three with regard to Shantung and Kiaochow, according to news received in authoritative circles here.

In riots in Peking the house of Tsao Yu-lin, minister of communications, who is friendly to Japan, was burned.

Tokyo, May 8.—Japan has notified China that the anti-Japanese agitation in Peking at present is liable to cause misunderstandings. The Japanese government also advised the Chinese government it would be well to prohibit the "national disgrace" meeting planned for yesterday in Peking.

Chinese students in Tokyo, as a protest against the cession of the German rights in Shantung to Japan, held a demonstration today in front of the Chinese legation, Stones were thrown through a number of windows and several students were hurt in encounters with the police. The Chinese afterward marched to the embassies and legations, including the American embassy, and presented a manifesto declaring the decision of the peace conference was "a deadly stroke to China."

NO NEEDLESS WORDS

Paris, May 8.—Premier Clemenceau yesterday said to the German plenipotentiaries at Versailles:

"It is unnecessary to express needless words. You have before you the plenipotentiaries of the small and great powers united in this most cruel war which was imposed upon them. The hour has arrived for a heavy settlement of the account."

Danville, Va., May 7.—R. B. Burke, a resident of Schoolfield, is being held for the grand jury with out bond, charged with an offense involving his 16 year old daughter. The Flow of Meat

Two-thirds of the live stock in the United States has to be raised in the West.

One-half of the consumers of meat live in the East.

In other words, most of the live stock is one or two thousand miles distant from most of the people who need it in the form of food.

Fifty years ago, when live stock was raised close to every consuming center, the country butcher could handle the job after a fashion.

But the job got too big.

Now millions of animals have to be moved hundreds of miles to millions of people. Somewhere on the way they have to be turned into meat.

The packers solved the problem. They set up plants where the "live haul" and the "meat haul" were in the right balance. They eliminated waste. They built up distributing systems—refrigerator cars, refrigerating plants, branch houses. They saved time, money and meat everywhere. The stockraiser benefited in better markets and higher prices; the consumer, in better meat and lower prices.

As the country grew, the packers had to grow, or break down. Because of its present size and efficiency, Swift & Company is able to perform its part in this service at a fraction of a cent per pound profit.
